These Days Will Return

Hello again to our Camera Club members

Well, to say this has been a different year, doesn't even begin to touch the way things have been for over a year now!

Not being able to meet in person has been very difficult for most of us. no meetings held at the Quality Hotel & Suites, no outings to our favourite places, no Santa House, no Christmas potluck and not seeing each other has made for a most trying time.

To combat most of this we have implemented Zoom meetings for our members to enjoy. Zoom is the best way that we have to communicate with each other and still offer you a program of sorts. So far Zoom has been appreciated by the members who log on to join us for each meeting.

We have tried to bring you an array of speakers and topics that both the beginners and the advanced photographers would enjoy. It has definitely been a challenge but never let it be said that we back down from any challenge! So for the time being and till the time when we'll be able to get together again we will stay with the Zoom format.

If you haven't yet joined us on zoom please check out the email that Jan sent to everybody on how Zoom operates. It's very easy to join and I'm sure you will enjoy what the meetings have to offer.

Keep well and stay safe
till we see each other again.

Linda, Program Chair

Until we meet again
